Dear Sir

I see by the papers, that the Numismatic Society has issued a Peace Medal, "in silver for members, & in bronze for the public"

May I trouble you to let me know price, of both?

You may remember, that once you were kind enough to let me have a medal, not to keep by the member, but a nephew over seas - (he is an architect) & I thought he like one of the Peace medals for himself indeed, if not too expensive, I think I'd like a 2nd one for a keepsake.

Yours Sincerely

Kate M. Lane

Dear Madam:-

In response to your letter of the ninth I take pleasure in enclosing a folder describing the Peace Medal published by our Society. You will notice that the price of the bronze copies is five dollars, and I think for the purpose you describe bronze would be more suitable than silver. The silver medals are reserved for our members - if you could not use the bronze the only way to secure silver copies would be by enrolling as an associate member, and I should be very glad to propose you if you wish it. You may be interested to know that we are preparing a medal to commemorate the visit of the Prince of Wales for publication some time next month.

Thanking you for your inquiry, and hoping to be favored with your order, I beg to remain,

Very respectfully yours,

Secretary.
